

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

House.
Mr. Calkins (Ind.) moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill to regulate the practice on patent cases. It provides that the innocent purchaser of a patented article where the damages are less than twenty dollars, shall not be required to pay costs. The bill was passed. Mr. Cox (N. Y.) moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill repealing the oath known as the "iron clad oath." Mr. Bostille (Maine) opposed the resolution. Mr. Cox pointed out that the oath did not apply to Southern men as another oath was provided for them. All that the bill provided was to give Union men the same rights as those who had been on the other side. In the course of his remarks he said that oath making was oath breaking, and said that Tallmadge swore thirteen times to support as many different Governments. The rules were suspended and the bill passed 185 to 11. At 4 P. M. the House adjourned.

Mr. Tucker (Va.) from the Judiciary Committee, reported back some sixteen land grant forfeiture bills without recommendation, in case that the House should decide whether it or the Committee on Public Lands, which has several bills of this class before it, should have consideration of the subject. The bill was sent to the House calendar.

Senate.
Cameron (W.) reported back from the Committee on Indian Affairs all the petitions and memorials in regard to opening up the Oklahoma lands to settlement. Hear introduced a resolution, which was agreed to, instructing the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads to inquire into the expediency of adding to the legislation prevent the circulation in mails of lottery advertisements coming from foreign countries.

The resolution of Anthony, relating to the exclusion of heathful American meats from foreign ports, was taken up. Beck spoke in favor of an amendment extending the inquiry as to the tariff laws of France, Germany, Mexico and Brazil, which discriminate against the United States.

THE DEAD DOG.

Feast of Religious Ceremony of the Onondaga Indians.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 22.—The Onondaga Indians buried the white dog yesterday in the council hall, the village of the Onondaga Indians. The sacrifice is annually made by the tribes of the six nations to propitiate the Great Spirit. The first white dog was killed in the morning. Two Indian boys stood outside the council house, each alternately firing a shot gun, accompanying the rite with a peculiar cry like the barking of a dog. All the chiefs, the braves and the squaws, both pagan and Christian, were present, decked with feathers and gaudy ornaments. The dead dog was placed in the council house and the tribe marched around it three times, with wailing and wailing war whoops to invoke the blessing of the Great Spirit. The dog was then placed in the stove and burned, while the braves sang songs and the squaws yelled.

New York's Statue of Liberty.
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The Directors of the Bartholdi Pedestal Fund are annoyed over recent strictures in a Toronto paper on American apathy and ingratitude in regard to subscriptions for the pedestal. Contributions have reached $150,000, which is half the sum needed, and there has yet been no organized solicitation for money. The committee has contracted for stone for the pedestal. There will be a stone for each State and Territory, with the various coats-of-arms engraved thereon. The statue will loom above the Brooklyn Bridge towers and be as high as Trinity Church steeple.

A Bad Railroad Smash.
MACON, Mo., Jan. 22.—The cannon-ball express, due here Monday morning, struck a broken rail three miles from town, and one sleeper and two coaches were wrecked. There were fifty with passengers on the train, many of whom were injured, but only six severely.

An Orange Leader to be Prosecuted.
DUBLIN, Jan. 22.—It is reported here that the Government is about to prosecute Colonel Stuart Knox, the Orange Grand Master of County Tyrone, for the active part which he took in the Orange meeting and riot at Dromore on the first instant.

Worn, Weary, and Wretched.

"As weak as a cat" is an expression frequently used by debilitated sufferers who are trying to tell how forlorn they feel. It is an incorrect expression, for a cat is one of the most agile and vigorous animals in existence. It would be more correct to say, "as weak as a limp old rag," for that gives the idea of utter inability to hold one's self up. The weary person who feels thus is generally worn, worried, woeful, and wretched.

Sometimes it is a case of overwork, and sometimes of imperfect nourishment. The blood in the system of such persons is "as weak as a rag" in a wretchedly thin condition. It needs iron, to impart richness, redness, and strength. This is to be had by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, the only safe and proper preparation of iron in connection with gentle and powerful tonics. The physician and the druggist can tell the worn and weary how valuable a remedy BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been found in actual everyday use.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

SANTA ROSA, California, Feb. 9, 1882.

R. J. KENDALL & Co.—Gentlemen:—I feel it a duty to others suffering with the piles and swelling of the rectum to write to you. I have had the piles and prolepses of the rectum for five years, for the past three years I have suffered the most agonizing pain. I tried everything without relief, but after ten days' use of Kendall's Spavin Cure, I have not seen the piles since. One who has not suffered as I have cannot comprehend the great joy that I felt at being cured of a disease which had almost cost me my life. I had a valuable young horse that had a large hunch girth on his breast bone. I tried all kinds of treatments and had it cut open without any benefit. Saw your advertisement and bought a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and ordered my tender to use as directed. In less than one week the lump had disappeared. Thinking that a liniment that would do what Kendall's Spavin Cure has done for my horse might benefit mine, I tried it as a last resort. With gratitude and best wishes for your success, I am faithfully yours, J. H. GLENN.
